1 THE COURT: Okay, in re Knowledge Strategy Solutions.
2 I think I have someone on the phone for this too?

3 MR. RUSKAMP: You do, Your Honor. This is Todd 4 Ruskamp on behalf of Shannon L. Spangler, P.C. Thank you for 5 allowing me to participate by phone.

6 THE COURT: Sure. Good morning.

7 MS. KIRBY: Dawn Kirby --

8 MR. RUSKAMP: Good morning.

9 MS. KIRBY: -- DelBello Donnellan, representing the 10 debtor and to my right is Anne Kershaw.

11 THE COURT: Good morning.

12 MR. ZIPES: And Greg Zipes with the U.S. Trustees
13 Office.

14 THE COURT: Okay. So this is the hearing on Sharon 15 L. Spangler, P.C.'s motion to lift the stay to proceed with 16 arbitration that was pending against A. Kershaw, P.C., the 17 debtor's sole member, before the commencement of the bankruptcy 18 case.

19 Obviously, you all have been here before on the 20 motion to enforce the stay and were extended, which I granted 21 but I, I think I was pretty clear that unless there were -- 22 well first of all I deemed, in granting it, I deemed Ms.
23 Spangler's opposition to that motion, a lift stay motion so we 24 didn't have to redo it.

25 And I think I was pretty clear at that hearing that

1 it was likely I'd grant it unless there was some unusual new 2 facts. But I also strongly urged everyone to try to resolve 3 their dispute.

4 MS. KIRBY: Yes, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Particularly since everyone seemed to 6 agree I think that there actually had been, well, you were down 7 to like the one foot line on that on a settlement of the 8 dispute, if not further, before the bankruptcy.

9 MS. KIRBY: We had had very extensive conversations.
10 Mr. Ruskamp and I probably have been on the phone for four or 11 five hours total at least going back and forth. We're not at 12 an impasse. We're continuing to discuss. However we're 13 prepared to go forward on the motion today and from the 14 debtor's perspective ask this Court to keep this discreet legal 15 question and decide it because it really is a question of what 16 are the debtor's rights, what is the formation of the debtor 17 and what is validly property of the debtor. As you will --

18 THE COURT: You can sit down. You don't need to 19 stand up, miss.

20 MS. KIRBY: Yeah, you can have a seat. I'm sorry.
21 Ms. Spangler is an -- I mean, sorry, Ms. Kershaw is an 22 attorney.

23 THE COURT: Right.

24 MS. KIRBY: Which is probably why she's showing 25 respect for the Court. Your Honor, the arbitration that's

1 pending against A. Kershaw, P.C. --

2 THE COURT: Right.

3 MS. KIRBY: -- is as you recall from the last 4 argument, simply claims that were brought also against the 5 debtor in a civil action concerning actions of the debtor or A.
6 Kershaw, P.C. has alleged causing actions of the debtor.

7 The very discreet legal question that would really 8 resolve the many, many, many of the claims between the parties 9 is what was the effect of Spangler, P.C.'s withdraw from the 10 debtor by a notice that was served under the operating 11 agreement in May of 2014 and consistent with the operating 12 agreement stated a 30-day term withdrawing effective June 11, 13 2014.

14 Thereafter the single member LLC, the debtor, the 15 single member remaining being A. Kershaw, P.C., moved the state 16 of incorporation to New York by filing a termination in 17 Missouri and opening the company here under the laws of New 18 York.

19 What is required both under Missouri law as well as 20 under the operating agreement for a dissolution of the company 21 that would have entitled Spangler, P.C. to a distribution of 22 assets is filing of something called a notice, a resolution of 23 dissolution. That was never done. The resolution of 24 dissolution was not filed. It's our position therefore the 25 company was never dissolved, simply terminated its Missouri

1 incorporation and came here to New York.

2 Now that pivotal issue will decide whether Spangler,
3 P.C.'s arguments that Missouri Knowledge Strategy fraudulently
4 transferred all its assets over to New York, Knowledge Strategy 5 -- it's really the basis of the entire arguments between the 6 parties and I believe a core bankruptcy question here.

7 THE COURT: But I, as I understood it, and maybe Mr.
8 Ruskamp can correct me, this isn't a fraudulent transfer claim.

9 MS. KIRBY: There are fraudulent transfer claims 10 alleged.

11 THE COURT: No, but that's not, but that's not what's 12 being mediated -- arbitrated.

13 MS. KIRBY: The claims that are being arbitrated, I 14 specifically refer to them.

15 THE COURT: I mean I, Mr. Ruskamp, I thought your 16 response to the objection was that it would be perfectly fine 17 to carve out avoidance issues from the arbitration.

18 MR. RUSKAMP: Right, Your Honor. This is Todd 19 Ruskamp. I understood from the last hearing that you had made 20 clear that an owner would likely carve out any, any Chapter 5 21 claims and we're not intending to try to prosecute those 22 claims. The pleadings aren't framed that way and we certainly 23 would be respectful of the Court's direction that we not try to 24 prosecute fraudulent transfer claims. I think they exist but 25 those are --

1 THE COURT: I understand. But I understand there --

2 MR. RUSKAMP: -- those are for this Court.

3 THE COURT: Right. I understand there are, there are 4 factual overlaps but that is how I understood your position and 5 you just reiterated it so.

6 MS. KIRBY: Well I --

7 THE COURT: I mean I -- and if it's a you know if 8 there's a veil piercing type of issue here, it seems to me that 9 the focus is solely in respect of how the corporate forum was 10 used in respect of or against Sharon Spangler, P.C., not 11 creditors generally. So again that would not appear to me to 12 be usurpation of you know an estate issue. It's really a -- 13 it's really an individual issue for Spangler, P.C.

14 MS. KIRBY: Well the for instance three counts that 15 were brought against both the debtor and Kershaw, P.C. in the 16 civil action, three of them were transferred over to 17 arbitration and one of them for example is count four which 18 alleges causing the Knowledge Strategy Solution assets to be 19 used and/or transferred to the New York entity.

20 THE COURT: Right.

21 MS. KIRBY: So fraudulent transfer is alleged.

22 THE COURT: But again the order would carve out 23 fraudulent transfer claims and veil piercing claims that are 24 not unique to Ms. Spangler. So you know one of the bases for 25 -- well I don't know whether under Missouri law this would be

1 the case, but certainly under New York, piercing the veil is if 2 you use the corporate forum improperly or fraudulently as to 3 you know a particular person or here a P.C.

4 And to me that's, that's -- arbitrating that issue is 5 not taking over an estate cause of action and doesn't involve 6 multiple parties you know i.e. the other creditors in this case 7 to the extent there are any, it relieves just a dispute between 8 Ms. Spangler and Ms. Kershaw and you know through her the 9 debtor.

10 MS. KIRBY: But I further believe that it involves, 11 it's a Court issue because it involves property of the estate 12 under Section 541. They're seeking a determination that all of 13 the property of the debtor's estate belongs to another entity.
14 That's essential --

15 THE COURT: Well vis-a-vis Ms. Spangler, that's 16 right, that's the distinction --

17 MS. KIRBY: Well vis-a-vis all creditors.

18 THE COURT: Well, no, that's the distinction I was 19 just making is that this is, it appears to me in looking at the 20 underlying claims, a case that would -- you know how the Second 21 Circuit in the various Madoff cases has distinguished veil 22 piercing where basically every creditor is affected equally by, 23 or substantially equally, by the actions that are asserted to 24 give rise to veil piercing.

25 In those circumstances it's an estate cause of action

1 and because third parties are involved who didn't sign on to 2 the arbitration provision I think it would be a much closer 3 question whether, whether under the case law, as I discussed in 4 the Hostess case given the third party involvement, the stay 5 would be lifted or not.

6 But here this -- these claims seem to me, and the 7 order can make it clear so the arbitrator understands the 8 distinction, these claims seem to me to be unique to Ms.
9 Spangler. It's not how the corporation was run generally.
10 She's saying that basically it was run in a way to, 11 specifically to impair her rights, not creditors generally, but 12 her rights.

13 MS. KIRBY: But what she's claiming, Your Honor, is 14 that under her hypothetical all of the assets of the operating 15 company in Missouri were fraudulently transferred to a 16 different company here in New York, which we don't agree with.

17 THE COURT: Right.

18 MS. KIRBY: But under that argument she would be 19 seeking to take all of the debtor's assets and transfer it back 20 to a different company for the benefit at the end of the day 21 for all creditors. And Ms. Spangler, P.C. being a --

22 THE COURT: No, that's not -- that would be carved 23 out. It's, look, this is why I urged you all to settle. The 24 result of this -- first of all it's only against Ms. Kershaw, 25 it's not against the debtor -- but the result of this

1 litigation would not be an avoidance, would not affect all 2 creditors, it would just affect her -- it would determine her 3 claim against Ms. Kershaw as P.C.

4           It's not a fraudulent transfer action, it's not 5 determining the rights of other creditors, and it doesn't even 6 give her a specific property interest beyond a claim if she 7 wins.

8           MS. KIRBY: I agree with Your Honor that it is not --

9           THE COURT: So it's just fixing her claim.

10          MS. KIRBY: Correct.

11          THE COURT: And so you know to me this isn't -- this 12 doesn't implicate the issues that I discussed in Hostess about 13 arbitration. It really is just an issue between her and Ms.
14 Kershaw and through Ms. Kershaw the debtor. It doesn't 15 determine the rights of third parties, all the other creditors, 16 they're not affected by this or the debtor's rights on their 17 behalf, i.e. the avoidance claims or veil piercing claims that 18 would belong to the debtor as opposed to just an individual 19 creditor.

20          MS. KIRBY: Okay. Well the other issue then is the 21 cost of the arbitration. The arbitrator's declining to decide 22 this legal issue in advance, instead scheduling a four-day 23 arbitration.

24          And the distraction of Ms. Kershaw from the operation 25 of the debtor during all this period leading up to and during

1 the four-days and therefore since these claims are similarly 2 pending against the debtor in the civil action would this Court 3 consider continuing the stay as against the arbitration for 4 when the case which we are seeking to transfer here comes 5 before Your Honor and we could make a motion on that discreet 6 legal issue?

7 THE COURT: I don't think under the Supreme Court
8 case law that that would be a proper exercise of my discretion
9 if I have any such discretion. I'm not aware of any bankruptcy
10 cases, certainly none after the Italian Colors Supreme Court 11 case came down that would lead me to do that.

12 I mean, the Supreme Court has made it very clear that 13 arbitration provisions should be enforced except for 14 exceptional circumstances and generally speaking cost isn't one 15 of those circumstances. Cost and efficiency. They basically 16 say you made the deficiency determination when you signed the 17 agreement.

18 So I just -- I think that -- I mean I have ruled 19 that, once, that it would be improper to arbitrate a situation 20 where in essence the issue was whether a debtor's discharge was 21 violated given the policy behind the discharge, i.e. these 22 people have no money and they should have access to the 23 Bankruptcy Court and therefore you know that's, Congress has 24 directed that to be the access.

25 But I just got reversed on that by the judge so he

1 read Italian Colors differently. And this case isn't close to 2 those facts, particularly when there's been a settlement
3 apparently previously agreed to. So I'm not going to exercise 4 my discretion there.

5 MS. KIRBY: May I just -- my client wants to speak to 6 me.

7 THE COURT: Sure.

8 (Attorney/client discussion)

9 MS. KIRBY: My client is asking Your Honor to direct 10 the arbitrator -- I don't understand. I apologize, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Well, I think I -- I mean, I overheard
12 the discussion.

13 MS. KIRBY: I'm sorry.

14 THE COURT: I think, and this is consistent with one 15 of the points raised in the objection, that I should at least 16 stay everything in the arbitration other than the issue of the 17 effect of the corporate change. And I don't believe that would 18 be appropriate for me to do. You could make that argument to 19 the arbitrator. I think he's already -- and he's, you know, an 20 experienced person, I think he's already made that decision.
21 He's considered that argument.

22 Now you may given that there will be a carve out in 23 this order which we've already discussed, you may feel that 24 that gives you a basis to raise the point again with him and 25 maybe that will be sufficient. But I'm not going to direct him

1 to do that. He's much closer to the facts and he's the one 2 that will be trying this and I think that he should decide how 3 he's going to try it.

4 MS. KIRBY: Okay.

5 THE COURT: I mean generally speaking judges, and 6 this person is a former judge, try to try things as efficiently 7 as possible and I'm not going to second guess either what he's 8 done so far or what he may do in light of the order lifting the 9 stay.

10 MS. KIRBY: Okay. So we'll confer with Mr. Ruskamp 11 on the --

12 THE COURT: Right.

13 MS. KIRBY: -- form of the order.

14 THE COURT: I mean I don't know if you have anything 15 more to say, Mr. Ruskamp, but you basically won.

16 MR. RUSKAMP: Thank you, Your Honor. I did just want 17 to raise with you the question of whether or not the Court 18 would consider waiting a 14-day stay and I'll probably get the 19 Rule wrong --

20 THE COURT: Well is there a -- do you have --

21 MR. RUSKAMP: -- is it seventy sixty-two?

22 THE COURT: -- do you have a date? Is there a reason 23 to waive it? I mean do you have a date from --

24 MR. RUSKAMP: Well I'm sorry to interrupt, Your 25 Honor. We do not currently have a date. Where it stands right

1 now is that the arbitrator continued the matter and asked us to 2 report back after this hearing.

3 THE COURT: Right.

4 MR. RUSKAMP: And probably will wait to report back 5 until after you enter an order just so that we don't misstate 6 things.

7 THE COURT: Right.

8 MR. RUSKAMP: But I, I guess what I'd be concerned 9 about is that if the -- if A.K. takes the position that we 10 can't even talk with the Court about rescheduling and trying to 11 get this back on track until the 14 days has run we're just 12 going to lose you know additional time. I'd at least like to 13 be able to go to the arbitrator once the order is entered and 14 begin that process of getting back on calendar.

15 There will end up being some lead time but there is 16 you know in our view anyway no reason to just have 14 days of 17 dead time trying to satisfy the Rule. So it's for that reason 18 that I ask.

19 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Well I think that the 20 -- I think there is sufficient cause for the waiver to inform 21 the arbitrator of the entry of the order and to discuss 22 scheduling. I think as a practical matter you're not going to 23 have the trial within 14 days of entry of the order but 24 certainly there's no reason not to inform the arbitrator of the 25 entry of the order and have a, if he wants a scheduling

1 conference for example or to discuss scheduling with him and 2 you know with both the parties. So you could put that in the 3 order.

4 MR. RUSKAMP: Thank you, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: So I'm going to ask you -- I'm not going 6 to ask you to formally settle the order on notice but you 7 should after you prepare it e-mail a copy to Ms. Kirby and give 8 her you know a day or so to look it over and discuss it with 9 you before you e-mail it to chambers.

10 MR. RUSKAMP: All right.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MS. KIRBY: Judge --

13 MR. RUSKAMP: Thank you, Your Honor. And again thank 14 you for allowing me to participate by phone.

15 THE COURT: Sure.

16 MS. KIRBY: There is one other issue I just wanted to 17 raise. I learned this morning from Ms. Lee that the debtor's 18 motion for a violation of the automatic stay which concerns 19 letters sent to the debtor's accountants which was previously 20 scheduled for November 16th.

21 THE COURT: Right.

22 MS. KIRBY: I'm advised that date is, all matters on 23 that date are being adjourned.

24 THE COURT: Well not necessarily.

25 MS. KIRBY: Oh, okay.

1 THE COURT: They might be.

2 MS. KIRBY: Okay. Well our issue, Your Honor, is 3 that I hoped that --

4 THE COURT: She's a very hard worker. She takes --

5 MS. KIRBY: She has a hard job.

6 THE COURT: Something came up that is -- that's one 7 of two potential days that I might.

8 MS. KIRBY: Okay.

9 THE COURT: And it's not clear that's going to go off 10 or not.

11 MS. KIRBY: Well our issue, and I hope that you would 12 discuss it for Mr. Ruskamp's benefit, is the return date of the 13 motion, on the return date of the motion Your Honor decides if 14 an evidentiary hearing is needed, that would be at a later 15 date.

16 And Mr. Ruskamp has served a subpoena on the 17 accountants which includes requests concerning you know did you 18 receive this letter or what are your communications.

19 THE COURT: I'm just not that familiar with the 20 motion but if what you're going to is this point. I mean our 21 local rules provide with some exceptions and I don't think this 22 is one of them, that the initial hearing on a matter unless the 23 Court orders otherwise is a non-evidentiary hearing.

24 MS. KIRBY: Right. I'm hoping -- I wanted Mr.
25 Ruskamp to hear that from Your Honor because I'm hoping to

1 resolve some of the objections so I don't have to file a motion 2 to quash and objections and spend more time of the --

3 THE COURT: Well you should talk about the discovery 4 between yourselves.

5 MS. KIRBY: Okay, thank you.

6 THE COURT: But you also should, I mean I still -- I 7 can't say this strongly enough. I think given the work that 8 had already been put into trying to resolve this matter before, 9 shortly before the petition was filed, you want to close that 10 loop before any more money is spent.

11 And you know if there's a good financial reason that 12 that deal doesn't exist any more I understand that, but that 13 requires you know particularly since we're dealing with people 14 in Missouri, showing them.

15 And I don't know what's help up the negotiations. I 16 just think everyone should be bending over backwards to resolve 17 them. And if it's a factual issue as to the debtor's financial 18 condition you know show them. And I think probably if it's not 19 that what applied before generally should apply now.

20 MS. KIRBY: We continue to discuss my -- Ms. Kershaw 21 came early to my office this morning --

22 THE COURT: Okay.

23 MS. KIRBY: -- to meet with me and Mr. Pasternack --

24 THE COURT: So you --

25 MS. KIRBY: -- and unfortunately our paralegal didn't

1 tell us she was there --

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MS. KIRBY: -- so we're going back to do that right 4 now.

5 THE COURT: So use the next few you know that should 6 be the main concern.

7 MS. KIRBY: Yup.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MS. KIRBY: Thank you, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Thank you.
